CALL FOR SPEAKERS AND PROJECTS

FOSSASIA is the leading Free and Open Source technology event in Asia for developers, startups, and contributors. In 2015 the event takes place from March 13-15 in Singapore. Talks, workshops and projects at FOSSASIA range from Open Hardware, to design, Libre Graphics, Maker projects and Open Source Software.

For our 2015 feature event we are looking for speakers that share our passion about code and community. We are interested on topics including:

- Big data and Open data
- Javascript, Mobile and the Open Web
- Geolocation software, maps and mesh ups
- Lightweight technologies
- Maker projects, 3D technologies
- Open design software, open manufacturing, wearables
- Cloud solutions

Participants from Asia and the world are expected to join a three day event. FOSSASIA was established in 2009. Previous events took place in Cambodia and Vietnam.

We are looking forward to your proposals. Submission deadline is 20th December 2014.
